It is refreshing to read of the man on the jury list at the trial of the New was richly worth 10 cents. Haven directors yesterday, who had heard of Dr. CHAUNCEY M. DEPEW, but couldn't place him. Unfortunately, most of the reports are so indefinite that the exact difficulty which this man found in locating the esteemed prince of afterdinner speech-makers is not indicated.

It cannot have been Mr. DEPEW's posttion on the Tariff usue which bothered him, for the Doctor is a Republican of Republicans. Nor can the doubt have been as to Chauncer's Gubernatorial chances, for a County Committeeman openly said the other day that he couldn't be elected. As to the baccarat cose, Mr. DEPEW has been discreetly noncommittal, and it is not related that he has taken sides in the Sullivan-Slavin prize-fight on paper.

Reluctantly the observer is forced to face the conclusion that Dr. DEPEW has failed satisfactorily to answer the prevalent questions as to whether the day is hot enough for him or whether it was Fugitive Mansa who struck Detective FREEMAN at Como Cottage.

The engagement of Henry E. Dixey by Charles Frohman was something of a surprise. Dixey, however, has been in the field for a long time. T. H. French wanted him, and the Casino would have liked him if he had been a trifle less expensive. Dixey has grown a little bit tired of himself and his scellar career through the country. He was very undecided wint he would do next season. Charles Frohman has solved the question for him. Frohman now has some of the most expensive and most popular people on the stage in his employ. His enterprises for next year are numerous and darlog. In fact Mr. Frohman is on the top wave of his success, and for him it must be said that he is exactly the same, not one bit more puffed-up, not one atom more consequential than when he was struggling in the bread-and-butter conflict. Few men know how to take success as artistically and as admirably as Charles Frohman.
